RACE FOR TWO MILLIONS.

An exciting race of fifty miles over mountains for a mine worth $2,000,000 by a miner and an officer of the federal government was the excitement in the region of Tacoma, Wash., last week. The race was incident to the opening of the great Colville Indian reservation, in eastern Washington. The Coleman syndicate, whose man won the race, was organized by Judge A. R. Coleman, of Port Townsend. Interested with him are Judge W. H. Brinker, United States District Attorney, F. C. Robertson and his assistant, Judge C. S. Fogg.

Judge Coleman became interested some time ago in the Le Fleur copper and silver claim, on the Colville reserve, fifty miles from Marcus, on the Spokane and Northern Railroad. Le Fleur is a Frenchman who discovered the claim years ago, and has been watching it ever since. Coleman filed eight claims on the property; but the Russell syndicate, headed by Colonel J. N. Russell, of Spokane, promptly filed claims over his. The Russell people claimed that the reservation was already open under an act of Congress, though the President's formal proclamation had never been issued. They took the matter into the federal court, and Judge Hanford now has the question under advisement.

The Coleman syndicate requested Congress to open the reservation, and prominent men went to Washington city to show Congress how the public good would be conserved, as it had been, by its opening. The necessary bill was passed February 15. Judge Coleman went immediately from Port Townsend to the mine. The rights of "sooners" being questioned, it was decided that a man must be stationed at Marcus to receive the news of the President signing the bill, and then to ride as fast he could for the claim. To perform this feat, John McCool, of the Coleman syndicate, and also collector of customs at Marcus, was selected. McCool was, in fact, one of the original discoverers of the mine.

McCool was at Marcus the following Thursday morning, awaiting a telegram from Washington, stating that President Cleveland had signed the bill. The Russell syndicate, equally clever, had had Gilman at Marcus to perform a similar feat for them. The expected telegram came early in the afternoon. McCool and Gilman started on their lonely fifty-mile race over a rough, tortuous trail. Each covered the distance in less than five hours; but Gilman, having the better horse, reached the destination first. But he did not post any notices. Judge Coleman was in possession. He had with him an Irishman and an Indian, and they were prepared to use artillery, if need be, to keep unwelcome visitors away.

When McCool arrived, he was greeted cordially by Judge Coleman, the latter quietly remarking that no claim-holders had yet put in an appearance. Gilman is quoted as stating that he did not post any notices because he did not wish to be shot. McCool's notices were promptly posted. The Le Fleur claim is situated on the Fourth of July Creek, and it is said to be the richest claim in that region. It is estimated to be worth $2,000,000 as it stands. Assays have run $65 to $85 per ton in copper and silver. It will soon be transferred to the Tenacet Mining Company, organized there by the Coleman syndicate several months ago, with a capital of $2,000,000. It is possible that the Russell syndicate will make a contest.

Simon S. Hartman, of Tunnelton, West Va., has been subject to attacks of colic about once a year, and would have to call a doctor and then suffer for about twelve hours as much as some do when they die. He was taken recently just the same as at other times, and concluded to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I took one dose of it and it gave me relief in five minutes. That is more than any thing else has ever done for me." For sale by L. Stabler & Co., druggists.

Use it in Time. Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting the eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and sometimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

While no physician or pharmacist can conscientiously warrant a cure, the J. C. Ayer Co. guarantee the purity, strength, and medicinal virtues of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It was the only blood-purifier admitted at the great World's Fair in Chicago, 1893.

For Over Fifty Years AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs Winslow's Sore Throat Syrup has been used over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the throat, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in all parts of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Beware and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Sore Throat Syrup and take no other kind. Jan 17 c&wlyr
